INTRODUCTION

Missionary Album 1889-1963 is a record of those individuals who have completed foreign missionary service under the Mennonite Brethren and Krimmer Mennonite Brethren Conferences.

This publication is submitted as a testimony to the missionary vision which the Lord of the harvest has given the brotherhood. The carrying out of this vision has required the joint efforts of the members of the churches at home and of the missionaries who have gone forth. Each one will be rewarded for his service by the Lord.

This album features missionaries who have completed service during the period from 1889 when conference missionaries from Russia began working in India until the present. It presents the pictures and records the character of their services. Missionaries in this album are those who have served abroad or in the homeland among peoples of a different race or culture. Some of them may yet return to the field as opportunity presents itself. The indicated home church is the congregation of which the missionaries were members when they departed for service.

Appreciation is herewith expressed to those individuals who supplied photographs and information of missionaries.

May the publication of this album glorify the Lord Who called and sustained these missionaries, recognize those who have given part or all of their lives for the cause of the Gospel and challenge others to dedicate themselves to Christ for the salvation of the lost.
